California Department of Toxic Substances Control to Host Green Remediation Symposium

08:30am Wednesday, February 4, 2009

Green Remediation Symposium

Cal/EPA Building

Byron Sher Auditorium

2nd Floor

1001 I Street

Sacramento, CA 95812

Webcast: <http://www.calepa.ca.gov/broadcast/>

The California Department of Substances Control, along with the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, Region IX, and the California Groundwater Resources Association, will host a day-long symposium on green remediation.

The symposium will provide a forum for global perspectives of green remediation, the incorporation of sustainable practices into the cleanup of contaminated sites.

Speakers will include:

- California Department of Toxic Substances Control Director Maureen Gorsen
- United States Environmental Protection Agency Representatives Mike Gill and Deb Doldblum.
- Industry leaders including representatives from DuPont, British Petroleum, and GSI Environmental.
- International scholars including representatives from the University of Nottingham and the University of Reading.
- Other international leaders including representatives from the Canadian National Railway and Golder Associates.
